

Table of Contents

CHAPTER 1: Homeschool Orientation

A Brief History Lesson – Meet the Staff – The Student-Teacher Connection – Credit Hours – Scheduling Strategies – Financial Services – Benefits of Homeschooling

CHAPTER 2: Learning Styles and Teaching Styles

Educational Theorists – Common Learning Styles – Your Child’s Learning Style – Your Child’s Strengths and Weaknesses – Individualized Patterns – Finding Your Teaching Style – Your Own Strengths and Weaknesses

CHAPTER 3: Getting Started

Legal Requirements – State Homeschool Departments of Education – Homeschool Groups – Withdrawing Your Child from School – Registering for Homeschooling – Determining Educational Philosophies, Goals, and Objectives – School Support for Homeschoolers

CHAPTER 4: Types of Homeschooling

Secular Homeschooling – Religion-Based Homeschooling – Umbrella and Satellite Schools – Charter Schools, Vouchers, and Cooperatives – Independent Study Programs – Virtual Learning and Cyber Schools – Eclectic Schooling – Unschooling and Deschooling – Unit or Theme Studies – Year-Round Schooling

CHAPTER 5: Understanding Unschooling and Unit Studies

Unschooling: A Way of Life – Deschooling Each Day – Children as Teachers – Unit Studies Year-Round – Theme Studies and the Core Curriculum – A Combination of Ways: Eclectic Schooling

CHAPTER 6: Socialization Issues

Social Skills and Child Development – Socialization Opportunities for the Homeschooler – Daily Social Situations – Maturity Levels of the Homeschooled Child – Learning Proper Etiquette, Morals, and Values – Preparing for the Future

CHAPTER 7: Choosing a Curriculum

Curriculum Guidelines – Packaged Curricula – Designing Your Own Curriculum – Creating Your Own Lesson Plans – Free Educational Resources – The Student’s Input – Handling Advanced Subjects – Educational Excursions and Field Trips

CHAPTER 8: Homeschooling Schedules

A Plan That Works – Flexibility in the Homeschool – Learning Naturally Every Day – Scheduling Suggestions – Time Requirements per Grade Level – Time Management Tips – Time for Rest and Relaxation

CHAPTER 9: Homeschooling One or Several

Homeschooling the Only Child – Socialization for the Only Child – Homeschooling Multiple Children – Assistance from Siblings – Keeping the Schedule on Track – Time Off for the Teacher

CHAPTER 10: Typical Homeschool Days

What Is a Typical Day? – Recording Your Typical Day – Breaking the Monotony – Attaining a Well-Rounded Education – Examples of Typical Homeschool Days – Keeping Faith Each Day

CHAPTER 11: Record Keeping

Planning Ahead – Your Lesson Plan Book – Keeping a Daily Logbook – Maintaining a Homeschool Portfolio – Testing and Assessment Alternatives – Recording Grades and Credits Earned – Granting Awards, Certificates, and Diplomas

CHAPTER 12: Organizing Your Homeschool

A Place for Everything – Storing Homeschool Supplies – Creating an Idea File – Activity Centers and Lab Stations – Quiet Corners and Libraries – Keeping Home and School Separate

CHAPTER 13: Homeschooling & the Single Parent

Single-Parent Homeschools – Educational Options and Alternatives – Special One-on-One Time – Weekend and Evening Homeschooling – Flexible Work Options – Single-Parent Support Groups – Help from Family and Friends – Child-Care Options

CHAPTER 14: Homeschooling & the Two-Career Family

Balancing Work and Family – Flexible Work Schedules – Homeschooling Dads – Involving Relatives – Dividing and Organizing Responsibilities – Homework by Day, Homeschooling by Night – Weekend Learning Activities – Family Field Trips

CHAPTER 15: Homeschooling in the Early Years

Toddlers and Preschoolers – Learning through Play – Creating a Stimulating Environment – Overcoming Stranger Suspicion – Ready for Kindergarten – Daily Educational Activities – Length of School Day

CHAPTER 16: Homeschooling in the Elementary Years

Teaching Your Child to Read – Ready for Math – Living History – Scientific Explorations – Art and Music – Free Educational Materials – Testing and Test Results – Socialization Opportunities

CHAPTER 17: Homeschooling in the Middle Years

Moving at Your Child's Pace – Focusing on Weaknesses – Enhancing Comprehension Skills – Exploring and Learning Together – Allowing Time for Educational Interests – Self-Directed Learning – Socialization Skills – Volunteering in the Community

CHAPTER 18: Homeschooling the Teen Years

Living with Teens – Teaching High-School Courses – Subjects Required for College – Driver Education – The Social Life – Volunteering and Apprenticeships – Working Part Time – High-School Transcripts – College Preparations – Scholarships and Financial Aid – High-School Graduation

CHAPTER 19: Homeschooling Special-Needs Children

Learning Disabilities – Helping Learning-Challenged Children – Support and Resources – ADD and ADHD Information – Dyslexia Support – Autism Assistance – Down Syndrome and Special Needs – Vision-Impaired and Hearing-Impaired Help – Gifted Children

CHAPTER 20: Veteran Homeschoolers & Burnout

Encouragement for Your Homeschool Journey – Rekindling the Fire – Staying Motivated and Inspired – Reconsidering Curriculum Choices – New and Refreshing Ideas – Handling Unexpected Challenges – Readjusting Goals as Your Child Grows – Taking Time Off – A Happy and Successful Homeschool

CHAPTER 21: College and Beyond

Colleges Welcome Homeschoolers – College Considerations and Preparations – Transcripts and Documentation – Entrance Exams and Interviews – Online and Distance Learning – The Job Hunt

CHAPTER 22: Adult Homeschoolers

Life After Homeschool – Options for Homeschooled Graduates – Lifelong Learning and Continuing Education – Homeschooled Parents Homeschooling Their Children – Comments from Homeschooled Adults – Life After the Nest Is Empty

Appendix A: Resources, Free Materials, Web Sites

Educational Materials – Free Educational Materials Resources and Materials for Special-Needs Children – Resources and Materials for Gifted Children – Faith-Based Supply Resources – Free Lesson Plan Ideas – Correspondence and Online Schools – College Resources – Publications – Driver Education – Virtual Field Trips and Museums – Travel

Appendix B: Curriculum Providers and Programs

Appendix C: National Homeschool Organizations

Appendix D: State Departments of Education (Homeschool Divisions)

Index